College—what is it? Classes? Exams? Yes, but there are also parties . . . hikes . . . friends . . . basketball . . . concerts
. . . plays . . . clubs . . . banquets . . . diplomas . . . and serious thinking and new ideas . . . perhaps even moments of inspiration and insight.

The total equals College Life, and the staff takes pleasure in presenting yours—at Pikeville—for the college year, 1950-51.

MRS. JAMES F. RECORD

To know Mrs. Record is to love her. With her cheerfulness and genuine interest in everyone, she has over the years been an inspiration to all who have known her.

Mrs. Record came to Pikeville in 1899, and ever since, the College has been the one great interest in her life. To her husband, Dr. James F. Record, President for twenty-five years, she was a helpmeet in countless ways: one cannot now recall his ideals and plans for the College without at once thinking of the many ways in which her practical bent of mind complemented them so effectively.

Mrs. Record was really a mother to all. She cared for the sick; she could take over in the kitchen; she found time to help many with their studies. She treated students as her own children; their interests were hers, and they still are.

We are grateful for the opportunity to thank her for all she has done for Pikeville College, and we wish her much happiness and continued health—and deep satisfaction in thinking of a work so well, so finely done.

PRESIDENT A. A. PAGE

It is difficult to think of the College without thinking of Dr. Page. In so many ways he stands for those things in the Pikeville Tradition which we value and honor: genuine good will toward men, sympathetic understanding, character founded on a sense of duty and responsibility. We shall always remember him gratefully, and pray God's rich blessing on him as he continues his leadership of the College and her students.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Members of the Student Council were elected by the vote of the entire school during the second week of the Fall Semester. Following tradition, a senior was chosen to serve as president, with a member representing each class to complete the Council of five members. Norman Parks was chosen President with the following class representatives: Toby Jo Spradlin, Senior; George Sharp, Junior; Sam Paul Combs, Sophomore; and Dorothy Carter, Freshman.

Various meetings were held through the year with numerous recommendations and suggestions being handed down by the Council. Perhaps the most used and lasting work was the set of rules and procedure set forth by the Council concerning the election and governing of cheerleaders.
